

1. Use the command : git clone <https://github.com/woshizhpy/Android-Calculator>
To clone the project to your local machine.
2. Open folder "app" in it with Android Studio (Download Android Studio here: <https://developer.android.com/studio/index.html> )
3. Click Build -> Rebuild project
If any error due to version mismatch, please update the version following the error message guide.
4. Click here to run the application

5. You will see the login window like this:

6. When you logged in, you will see the calculator like this:

7. The sin, cos, tan operation works like this: if you want to calculate  $\sin(30)$ , press 30 then press sin, you will see the result.